National Careers Week 2022 in the Bailiwick

This was the first year that Careers Guernsey has actively promoted National Careers Week within the Bailiwick and it was great to see schools, Post-16, employers, learning providers and the third sector getting involved. Over the coming pages you can find out more about some of the engagement.

A big thank you to everyone who got involved!

National Careers Week in schools and Post-16

Our schools and Post-16 took part in National Careers Week to help demonstrate their commitment to the Gatsby benchmarks.

The Gatsby benchmarks are national standards for good career education and guidance in schools/Post-16.

Activities included:

Guess what the Mystery Guest does

Skills competitions for students

Teacher 'my career' posters and students guessing which teacher matched the poster

Employer mock job interviews

Post-16 Employer Networking Event

Higher Education Fair

Visits to employers

Webinars with industry

Career guidance interviews

Feedback from our schools/Post-16:

"School staff wrote a paragraph about their first job, what they liked about it and how much they got paid. I then asked the students to match the job with the correct member of staff.....this was great fun!"

"Group discussions took place about 'work' and what it means. Is it more important for people to work for money or for enjoyment? This raised lots of debate."

Marks and Spencer Guernsey were brilliant ambassadors for retail during NCW and put a lot of effort in to highlight the range of careers in retail – thank you and well done M&S!

"We really wanted to change the perception that people have around working in retail. And show that the roles are interesting and diverse, ranging from the sales floor to Commercial Manager, to logistics. We are an iconic brand but still maintain our family values, we actively encourage personal development whether this is at degree level or the apprenticeship scheme."

Denise Arnold, HR Manager Marks & Spencer Guernsey.

RAW Capital Partners generously helped raise money for a charity by running a skills competition for Post-16 students. Thank you RAW Capital for your support!

RAW Capital Partners Skills Competition

“RAW Capital Partners ran a skills competition during NCW called ‘Pitch Your Passion’ where we gave post-16 students the opportunity to pitch for a charity of non-profit of their choice. The engagement was great! We had written applications on behalf of a wide variety of organisations and heard in-person pitches from a small group of passionate, eloquent, and entertaining young people. We have received a few ‘thank you’ cards since participants got as much out as we did.”

James Travers, Operations Director RAW Capital Partners.
