What are the benefits for your organisation?

The benefits to us as an organisation are also many. We get to raise our profile as an employer of choice and gives us early access to the upcoming talent. Work experience can give rise to a job at the end of it, which is good for everyone. The work experience placement also develops our people by including them in the process, spending time with the students, developing their own skills in communication, mentoring and supervisory skills and boosts their confidence.

The benefits of work experience are many. From the student's viewpoint they get to "try before they buy". It is about connecting with individuals from a host of backgrounds, who bring fresh ideas, new ways of thinking.

Why do you offer work experience?

A work experience placement provides the space to explore job preferences and potential career pathways before committing to further study or a full-time position.

It offers a deep dive into the world of work, and a chance to develop positive work habits and flex their learnings, as well as boost confidence through exposure to new environments and developing key people skills that will make a difference to their future employability.

Some placements may also give the student an opportunity to experience the recruitment process, we might ask them to submit a CV or attend a pre-placement meeting. It also allows them to add the experience to their CV.

As an equal opportunities employer we take students from all across the education area and are willing to adapt to meet the needs of the student to give them the best experience we can. We are also proud to be members of the Guernsey Employment Trust which creates employment opportunities for everyone and assists people to prepare for, find and maintain work.

Thank you, Guernsey Electricity for offering work experience and inspiring young people about their futures!
